AN ORDINANCE related to the Restricted Parking Zone program to update and clarify the program; amending Sections 3.12.120, 11.14.515, 11.16.120(F) and (G), 11.16.315, 11.16.317, 11.16.319, 11.23.440, 11.28.010(D), 11.31.121, 11.72.351, 11.76.015, 15.04.112 and 23.44.041(A) of the Seattle Municipal Code; adding new Section 11.16.316; and repealing Sections 15.04.112 (B) and (C), 11.73.010-.040, and 11.73.080.

WHEREAS, Ordinance 108354 established the Restricted Parking Zone program in 1979, for many years known generally as the residential parking zone program (or RPZ program) to help ease parking congestion in residential neighborhoods, and Ordinance 122853 amended the resident identification permit fees to cover the increased cost of administration; and

WHEREAS, restricted parking zones (RPZs) are often located adjacent to generators of high traffic demand, such as universities, high schools, hospitals, transit stations or stops, and business districts in order to limit the impact of employees, transit commuters, and students parking their vehicles for lengthy time periods and thereby using parking that might otherwise be used by residents and area visitors; and

WHEREAS, as of March 2009, Seattle has 27 restricted parking zones that operate seven days a week at varying days and hours, and the Seattle Department of Transportation (SDOT) issues approximately 17,000 RPZ permits annually; and

WHEREAS, as part of this ordinance to update and clarify the RPZ program, Seattle Municipal Code Sections 11.73.010-.040 and 11.73.080 are repealed; however, while the Director of SDOT continues to have the authority to create, modify or dissolve RPZs as needed, repeal of SMC 11.73.010-.040 and 11.73.080 is not intended to affect the validity of existing RPZs, which the SDOT Director intends to retain as valid RPZs. The boundaries of these zones can be reviewed at the SDOT RPZ permit counter; and

WHEREAS, SDOT initiated a major policy review starting in 2007 to redesign the existing RPZ program to better achieve the City of Seattle's goals in areas of parking management, transportation, economic development, social equity, and sustainability; and

WHEREAS, SDOT conducted a broad-based community engagement effort to generate feedback on draft recommendations issued in August 2008. As part of this effort, SDOT disseminated draft RPZ policy review recommendations to citizens, sought feedback from a broad range of stakeholders to help inform decisions, and, after an 80-day comment period, received over 500 comments from variety of residents, business owners and others;

WHEREAS, exceptions may be needed to the four-permit per household limit for those land use zones that permit dwelling units that allow well in excess of eight unrelated occupants to reside as part of one household unit; and

WHEREAS, the proposed amendments to the RPZ program are intended to support the following four objectives: reduce traffic impacts to neighborhoods from commuters who park around large parking demand generators; support mixed-use neighborhoods and local business districts by creating a pilot program for businesses and institutions and by broadening the community engagement program; continue to encourage a reduction in overall energy use and vehicle emissions by discouraging non- residents from parking in RPZ areas; and implement simple rules that are easily understood and clearly applied; and, NOW, THEREFORE,

C. To inform communities about the intended creation of an RPZ in the LINK station areas and to obtain public comment, Seattle Department of Transportation shall convene a series of community meetings for the proposed zones prior to installation.

D. The purpose of the pilot program is to determine whether issuance of RPZ permits to businesses or institutions and their employees assists the Seattle Department of Transportation in reaching the following goals: reduce neighborhood traffic impacts by large parking demand generators; support mixed-use neighborhoods and local business districts; continue to reduce overall energy use and vehicle emissions; keep demand by residents and businesses (including institutions) from exceeding available on-street parking spaces in residential areas; and, implement a customer-oriented permit program.

Section 6. Section 11.16.317, as last amended by Ordinance 118409, is amended as follows:

SMC 11.16.317 Establishing, expanding, ~~and reducing, and dissolving~~ restricted parking zones

A. The Director of Transportation or his or her designee shall consider whether a restricted parking zone, within a designated area, would promote certain benefits or would result in adverse impacts.

1. Benefits that may lead to establishing an RPZ may include, but are not limited to: increased access for area residents, reduced traffic congestion, increased traffic or pedestrian safety, reduced air or noise pollution, reduced commuter parking in neighborhoods, prevention of blighted areas, and promoting the use of alternative modes of transportation.

2. Adverse impacts that may prevent implementation include, but are not limited to: transferring a parking problem to a different area, inability to effectively enforce program restrictions, lack of alternative transportation modes, and availability of simpler, cheaper or more effective solutions.

3. Regardless of potential benefits or adverse impacts that may result from creating an RPZ in any downtown zone including all zones contained in Map 1A of Ch. 23.49 SMC, the Seattle Department of Transportation will not install RPZs in such zones, in part, because of high demand and multiple, competing needs for on-street parking.

~~A.~~ B. In cases where the criteria listed above are not all met, the Director of Transportation is authorized to establish a restricted parking zone when, in his or her judgment, the parking problem will be ameliorated by a restricted parking zone and the public interest would be served.

C. The Director of Transportation or his or her designee is authorized to engage affected and interested community stakeholders to review and assist in refining any future RPZ proposals.

1. The public information and involvement program may include department presentations to business and community organizations, information distribution through the City's web site, news releases and related media, direct mailings of informational materials, facilitated meetings, sounding boards, walking tours, surveys, and other techniques as appropriate to the scale of the proposal.

2. Prior to the Director of Transportation's decision to establish or not to establish, or dissolve an RPZ, or to expand or reduce an RPZ by more than two (2) contiguous blocks, the Seattle Department of Transportation shall hold an administrative public hearing where it will provide interested persons an opportunity to submit written and spoken comment into the public record.

G. The Director may initiate dissolution of an RPZ when he or she determines that it best serves the public interest and meets at least one of the following criteria, including but not limited to, low permit sales in a zone, a small number of blocks with RPZ signs, or the original traffic generator no longer exists. The zone would be removed at the beginning of a new permit cycle.
